Hope & Inspiration Despite the Times: The Sequel

Boy, is it dark! I mean this not only in the literal sense but also in the figurative sense.

There are days when I wonder how the world has gone so terribly wrong. Forgetting the painful lessons of history and eclipsing the fundamental ethical imperatives of truth, justice, and that we all are created in God's image. Yet, just when I feel that the world I will leave my children will be worse than the one I inherited, I go to my special "stop whining & get off your tuchus ritual."

This ritual involves recharging myself by reading the writings and stories of inspiring people whose unrelenting hope, extraordinary heroism, truth to power, and visions/dreams of what we and our world should/can be. (See the article I wrote on Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in January 2015) Their words, stories, and deeds become a buttress of hope, civility, and inspiration for me. Proof that one person, one voice, one deed can and does bend the arch of history toward justice.

This month I would like to share with you some of the teachings and thoughts of Victor Frankl, a Jewish Austrian born psychologist and survivor of multiple concentration camps including Theresienstadt and Auschwitz. Frankl developed a new school of psychology called logotherapy, which at its core focuses on the importance of the drive for meaning in our lives. What first inspired me was how Frankl combined both psychology and faith together in their shared pursuit of helping people find purpose and meaning in life.

Although a few quotes will never do justice to Frankl (I of course recommend reading: Man's Search for Meaning & Unconscious God) here are a few quotes that I find inspiring and life affirming.

"Everything can be taken from a man but one thing; the last of the human freedoms – to choose one's attitude in any given set of circumstances, to choose one's own way."

"We who lived in concentration camps can remember the men who walked through the huts comforting others, giving away their last piece of bread."

"The more one forgets himself - by giving himself to a cause to serve or another person to love - the more human he is and the more he actualizes himself. What is called self-actualization is not an attainable aim at all, for the simple reason that the more one would strive for it, the more he would miss it. In other words, self-actualization is possible only as a side-effect of self-transcendence."

"What man actually needs is not a tensionless state but rather the striving and struggling for a worthwhile goal, a freely chosen task. What he needs is not the discharge of tension at any cost but the call of a potential meaning waiting to be fulfilled by him."

"No one can become fully aware of the very essence of another human being unless he loves him."

"A thought transfixed me: for the first time in my life I saw the truth as it is set into song by so many poets, proclaimed as the final wisdom by so many thinkers. The truth – that love is the ultimate and the highest goal to which Man can aspire. Then I grasped the meaning of the greatest secret that human poetry and human thought and belief have to impart: The salvation of Man is through love and in love."

"Freedom, however, is not the last word. Freedom is only part of the story and half of the truth. Freedom is but the negative aspect of the whole phenomenon whose positive aspect is responsibility. In fact, freedom is in danger of degenerating into mere arbitrariness unless it is lived in terms of responsibility. That is why I recommend that the Statue of Liberty on the East Coast be supplemented by a Statue of Responsibility on the West Coast."

As always, I welcome your feedback and thoughts, especially any recommendations of people whose writings, stories, and deeds inspire you.

As Victor Frankl might say, may we challenge ourselves each day to strive for love and a higher purpose bringing hope and meaning to our lives and world.

Rabbi Michael Singer

THANK YOU!!!!!!

Dear Rabbi Singer,

In Sept. of 1991, I first had the honor of serving as Ba'al Tefillah during shacharit services for Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur, as well as the mincha service on Yom Kippur. Not unexpectedly, congregants offered the traditional "Yasher Koach" afterwards, which of course was always appreciated and nice to hear. What was not expected was the pure joy and "high" I experienced as a result of having actively participated in these services. I've been lucky enough to daven and experience those feelings repeatedly for the following 24 years. It's been apparent to me for quite awhile that, in general, great reward is reaped from "just doing the task", apart from any recognition given by others; fulfilling the role of Ba'al Tefillah has greatly strengthened that notion. I'm sure that, with regards to the matter at hand in particular, my experience has been heightened even more so because of the chaimish ambiance known as Congregation Brith Sholom. And so, the dedication of a new shtender in my honor for 25 years of High Holy Day davening is truly icing on the cake for which Marilyn and I are grateful, and wish to offer our sincere thanks to you and the congregation.

Please extend our thanks to the Ritual Committee for their support, and to Dr. Andy Pestcoe, the craftsman behind the beautiful piece of woodworking. I'd be remiss if I didn't extend heartfelt thanks to Rabbi Juda for having given me the opportunity to daven in the first place, and to Sam Guncler for making training tapes for me (so long ago) as well as offering some pointers along the way. I look forward to much more davening at Brith Sholom and giving the shtender a workout.

Today rabah,
Kenneth Kalnitsky

2016-2017 YIDDISH FILM FESTIVAL

“MAMELE” (with English Subtitles)

Sunday February 26, 2017 at 2:00PM

Admission: $5 for adults and free admission for minors

Please call Tammy at 610 866 8009 for reservations

Synopsis: The 1938 film, “Mamele” belongs to Molly Picon, “Queen of the Yiddish Musical,” who shines as Mamele (little mother), the dutiful daughter keeping her family intact after the death of their mother. She’s so busy cooking, cleaning and matchmaking for her brothers and sisters that she has little time for herself, until she discovers the violinist across the courtyard!

Set in Lodz, Poland, this musical comedy drama embraces the diverse gamut of inter-war Jewish life in Poland, with its nogoodniks and unemployed, nightclubs and gangsters, and religious Jews celebrating Succoth.

Reviews:

- “MollyPicon plays a cheerfully suffering yenta Cinderella awaiting justice for her many sacrifices to a selfish family. She cooks, she cleans, she sings—what more do you want? Of course there’s a happy ending.” ---Dennis Harvey, San Francisco Bay Guardian (July 22, 2014)
- “Even if you know nothing about Yiddish culture, anything with Molly Picon is worth seeing. This marvelous film finds the vastly talented actress taking care of her underemployed, unappreciated siblings and father. Made in Poland in 1938, when life was terrible for Jews and about to get unimaginably worse, Mamele is a must see for film lovers”.—KQED Critic’s Pick
- “The N.Y. Jewish Film Festival has always been an excellent showcase for the restoration work of film archivists, and this year’s program is no exception, with the revival of Mamele, a vehicle for the vastly talented Molly Picon....The archival programs are always among the festival highlights for this critic”---Jewish Week (December 31, 2013)
- “A sparkling gem of the New York Jewish Film Festival is the U.S. premier of the restored 1938 Yiddish film Mamele. Starring Molly Picon, the 5 foot tall, 100 lb. phenom of Yiddish stage and screen, the film is set in Poland’s textile hub of Lodz. A Yiddish Cinderella, Picon shops, shleps, cooks, dreams of love and is the go-to-person when someone has a problem”—Jewish Daily Forward (January 20, 2014)

The Influence of Hebrew on the English Language : Some Big Surprises!

Reba Marblestone

An entertaining as well as informative two part presentation of how Hebrew has influenced our language. Some of the topics to be presented include an introduction to the various important translations of the Hebrew Bible, the enormous influence of Hebrew on the Pilgrims!, how biblical words and expressions have been used in American movie and book titles and much, much more!

To register for class, please contact Tammy at 610-866-8009 or tammy@brithsholom.net

Class Dates: March 7 and 14. 7:00 P.M.

TORAH FOR FOODIES

Behold! I shall rain down for you food from heaven.

Exodus 16:4

Exploring Torah, traditional and modern sources, Rabbi Juda will expound on references to fish, manna and fruit trees.

Following these presentations, Jannie Kay will demonstrate the practice of mindfully planning and preparing foods as related to Rabbi Juda's presentation. The dishes selected will foster wellness for the body, mind, and spirit. The class will participate in preparing and eating the "fruits of their labor."

TORAH FOR FOODIES is a three-week program to be held at Brith Sholom on Tuesdays, February 7, 14, and 21 (snow date: February 28) from 6 – 7:45 PM. Deadline for signing up is February 1st and a minimum of 4 people is required for the program to be held. Class size is limited to 8. Materials fee: $30.

Call Tammy in the office 610-866-8009.

YOGA CLASS HAS BEGUN AGAIN

Chair Supported Yoga is back at class at Brith Sholom. Taught by certified, masterful and experienced yoga teacher, Miriam Serow, this class is a gem. Don't be fooled by the "chair supported" aspect of the class. You will work your buns hard, develop your breathing and find your center.

Still, this class is suitable for people of all ages, abilities and disabilities. For those who are active and have a regular yoga practice or did in the past, the chair allows for deep and sustained full range of motion without the burden of full self-weight support. The chair also allows folks with no experience at all or with injuries or physical limitations to find their fullest range of motion in all joints and muscle groups safely within the limits of their individual restrictions. People with balance or stability issues can do this class as well as people with dizziness issues.

The class meets at CBS on Thursdays 12-1:00 thru March 16, 2017. Cost is $10.50 per class. To register, please contact Tammy in the office at 610-866-8009.

Love Your Neighbor As Yourself! A Code of Jewish Ethics

Class Dates: Monday Evenings 7:15pm beginning February 6th and run until May

Loving your neighbor as yourself seems like a vague, simple, yet profound Commandment. In the second volume of Rabbi Joseph Telushkin's, A Code of Jewish Ethics*, we will explore the ethics of hospitality, visiting the sick, comforting mourners, and giving tzedakah to name a few. The focus of this class will be on how Judaism understands the dynamics between the individual and the community as well as the how and why of bringing the value of kindness to others.

* Required book: A Code of Jewish Ethics Volume 2, Rabbi Joseph Telushkin

Still Dreaming of Spring Gardens

We're still looking for some green thumbs and dirt diggers to help spruce up the synagogues grounds this spring. Wouldn't you like to be involved in planning the refreshed gardens? Or, you could rake, dig, prune. Find out more about the NEW CBS Horticulture Club: call the office or email judithrodwin@gmail.com.

THE ASIAN DINNER: AWESOME!!

The best place to start with saying Thanks is to YOU, all of you who attended the outstanding Asian feast; your enjoyment makes it a pleasure to serve you.

The menus are so authentic you might wonder what restaurant you went to by mistake. And the table decorations, also so authentic you would assume that there was a caterer on staff at CBS. But it is all accomplished by we at CBS who have honed our skills and gathered together to perfect our ethnic Friday Shabbat dinners.

The dinner was coordinated by Judith Rodwin with the help of her friend Lilly, a native of Thailand. The décor was created by Maria Ain. The beautiful table setting was made even nicer thanks to the napkin-folding skills of Edwin Kay, Lora Geftic, and Ursula Levy (and those lovely baby orchids).

Irving Kaplan not only selects great chicken but also sets a very nice table. Our seasoned cooks [and tasters] include Steffi Berman, Jannie Kay, Helen Appel, Maria Ain, Fran Fisher, and Judith Rodwin, and for more assistance we thank Roz Ebert.

We appreciate our cheerful wait staff: Daniel & Judy Caine, Dale & Devon Berkove, Becca Meyer, Miriam & Mordy Singer, and Peter Capote.

Tammy, thank you for coordinating and tracking the reservations.

Thank you Bill for finding all of the supplies that we run out of.

Tim, you are the professional, thank you.

We look forward to seeing you on February 10 for a true Greek feast. Make your reservations NOW [before the deadline of February 6].

6:00 Services

7:00 Dinner

Imagine yourself in a sidewalk café in Piraeus. The sun is setting over the Aegean as Shabbat approaches. You walk past the fishing boats moored in the harbor as you head home to your family. While the Jewish population in Athens was not the largest in Greece the community has strong ties to each other and celebrates its heritage as a family. After all, there have been Jews in Greece since at least the 4th century BCE.

The center of the Greek Jewish community before WWII was in Thessaloniki, the Macedonian capital. Tragically, there are a mere 8,000 Jews left in the country but we can still support the proud Sephardi memories and enjoy the deliciously healthful food.
